ENAMELLED FACES.—It is impossible to walk in the row, to saunter along the drive, or to attend any of the various gatherings where fair faces are supposed to be the chief attraction, without noticing how many of them owe their imagined charms to another hand than that of nature. During the last eight years the odious practice of painting the face has been steadily growing, until, in the most conspicuous classes of society, the practice has ceased to be the exception, and has become the rule. Once more, as in the time of Steele, we have a race of Picts amongst us. Formerly an old harridan, if she spread a little cautious rouge over the cheeks that age would have spread had unremitting excitement not been superadded to years, was pointed out with the finger, and was in a double sense a marked woman. Now a days the youngest fingers dab ble in the pigment. The disease has spread from cheeks to every portion of the face. The mouth, which one would have thought the last to catch the infection, has taken it in the most violent form, and hundreds of women in London go about with a perpetual lie upon their lips. Pencils for the eyebrows, and even for the eyelashes, are common wares on a modern toilet table. Nothing strikes a stranger to Hyde Park more forcibly than the want of expression in the countenances which flash past him during the hours that carriages congregate in that much affected spot. They lack all mobility. There is no play of the features about them; they are fixed and set. Moore would never have compared any of them to the lake that breaks into dimples and laughs in the sun. This phenomenon, so often re-marked on, is fully explained when it is remembered that a single injudicious smile might mar the labor of hours. It is lamentable to think that the repose which stamps the caste of Vere de Vere is too often to be attributed, not to any inherent refinement or to any inherited grace, but rather to a horrible fear that a moment's animation might thwart the study of an entire morning .- London News.

BURIAL OF THE DEAD,-It has always seemed singular to us that we should hand and examine his stock. over our dead in the hands of strangers. We nurse and watch over them with the vigilance . and devotion of love until the breath is gone and the eye is set in death, and then we give them into the care of others, almost hire strangers to weep for us over our dead. Now, this is not right. Could anything be more in place, look more beautiful, than that children should bear a dear father or a beloved mother to the grave? When we could not walk, and our feet stumbled, and our knees were weak, they lifted us up and bore us tenderly in their strong arms and on their beating bosoms, and nestling up our tired feet and hands, they sang us to sleep and laid us to rest in the old cradle. And now that they can walk no more, and their feet are sore, and they have fallen by the way, with their quiet, tired faces turned up to us in the solemn patience of parental love, why shall we not take them up in our strong arms and bear them patiently and lovingly down to the grave's side, and nestle them away to rest in its bed under the old oak tree, even though our hearts are too full for song.

GEN. LEE'S KINDNESS AND LIBERALITY .-Biographers and newpaper obituary writers have united in ascribing to Gen. Robert E. Lee the best qualities of heart and mind. A Cincinnati paper relates the following anecdote of the deceased, which does him honor: "One day last autumn the writer saw Gen. Lec standing in his gate talking pleasantly to an humbly clad man, who seemed very much pleased at the cordial courtesy of the great chieftain, and turned off, evidently delighted, as we came up. After exchanging salutations, the General said, pointing to the retreating form, 'That is one of our old soldiers, who is in necessitous circumstances.' I took it for granted that it was some veteran Confederate, when the noble hearted chieftain quietly added, "He fought on the other side, but we must not think of that." I afterwards ascertained-not from Gen. Lee, for he never alluded to his charities-that he had not only spoken kindly to this 'old soldier' who had 'lought on the other side, but had sent him on his way rejoicing in a liberal contribution to his necessibe travelling in a railway train, accompanied by his wife, when a collision happened. His wife received a severe contusion between the eyes, for which the jury awarded fifty pounds damages. Some time after the affair had blown over the following confession was elicited from the plaintiff, in a moment of unguarded conviviality: - "Well you see when t' collision happened t' ould woman and I wur all reet; but when I got o't' carriage I saw a lot of fellows in a terrible state. One sings out, 'Ey, lad, I've gotten my head cut open; I'll ha' twenty peownd for this.' "Twenty peowads!" cried another; "I'se getten my shoulder out, and I'll ha' forty peownds for't.' When I heerd this," countinued the clever "business" man, "I jumped at t'ould woman straight out, and druv my head right betweeen her eyes, and we'se getten fifty peownd for 't."

A SLIGHT MISTAKE. - The following anecdote has been associated with the name of a well known elergyman's helmate in the North. The minister had been entertaining at dinner a clerical friend from some distance. The evening was unpropitions, and the friend was invited by the minister to remain during the night, and he accepted the invitation. They walked together for some time in the manse garden. At dusk the minister asked his visitor to step into the manse while he would give directions to his manservant to get his conveyance ready in the morning. As the stranger entered the manse the minister's wife mistook him for her husband in the twilight; she raised the pulpit Bible, which chanced to be on the lobby table, and brieging the full weight of it across the stranger's shoulders, exclaimed emphatieally, "Take that for asking that ugly wretch to stay all night!"

The City Fathers of Louisville have passed and ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance to Proteet Ladies on the Street." It is a rather remarkable kind of a law. The young fellows who gaze at women in the streets, either cut aug 81 tf SAMUEL H. LUNT. of sentiment or from impudence, are to be fined by the worthy magistrates of that extraordinary city. No provision seems to be made for the punishment of ladies who look at gentlemen.

CLEAR AND HARMLESS AS WATER. NATTANS' CRYSTAL DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR,

A Perfectly Clear Preparation, in One Botle, as Easily Applied as Water, for Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color and Youthful Appearance, to Eradicate and Prevent Dand ruff, to Promote the Growth of the Hair, and Stop its Falling.

It is perfectly harmless and entirely free from any poisonous substance, and will therefore take the place of all the dirty and unr lessant preparations now in use. It is warranted to contain no Lead, Nitrate of Silver or Sulphur, consequently it is perfectly free from all the objections so justly urged against the muddy and sulphurous compounds. In everything in which the articles now in the articles now i which the articles now in use are objectionable Crystal Discovery is perfect.

Clear and clean as water, it does not soil the A COUNTRYMAN, in England, happened to makes one of the best dressings for the hair in use. It restores the color of the hair more perfect and uniformly than any other preparation, and always does so in from three to ten days Virtually feeding the roots of the hair with all the nourishing qualities necessary to its growth and healthy condition, it restores the decayed, and induces a new growth of the hair more positively than anything else. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp, and gives harsh, wiry and brash hair a glossy and elegant appearance.

Washington, August 15, 1870.
Mr. Arthur Nattans—Dear Sir: Some time since I bought a bottle of Crystal Discovery on your own recommendation, and after a thorough trial am glad to say it has accomplished even more than you claimed. It is as clear and easy of application as water, resembling none of the dirty preparations in use. My hair, which was quite gray, has assumed its natural color after a few applications, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all needing anything of the kind, as also the chespest article ever offered. Very respectfully, JAMES HALL, 20th and E sts.

THE STEWART PARLOR BASE-BURN ING STOVE. The increasing demand for a first-class and roliable base-burning and self-feeding stove which has been pressing upon all stove dealers so much of late, has induced the inventor and manufacturers of the celebrated STEWART STOVES to turn their attention in that direc-tion, and the result is the production of a stove which for beauty of design, economy in the use of fuel, capacity for heating, and completeness in all its operations, is unsurpassed by any stove now in the market.

Amount the advantages claimed are:

Economy in the use of Fuel—This stove being designed to overcome the great objection which has been raised against most of the self-feeders now in use, namely, the inordinate consump-tion of fuel. The Stewart Parlor Base-Burner being provided with a brick lined fire pot and complete gas burning arrangements, generates a steady and powerful heat, which by the use of the draft damper is under perfect control, so that the heat may be radiated to suit the temperature of the room and a moderate or strong degree of heat thrown out as the will or pleas ure of the operator may desire, thereby securing a saving of at least one third of the amount of fuel consumed in stoves which cannot be thus controlled. Cheerfulness-This stove is provided with mica doors, arranged just above the fire box, and encircling almost the entire body of the stove. These doors are nicely hinged, so that they can be opened at any time and the mica cleaned with the utmost facility, and when the fire is burning a steady and brilliant illumination is produced, thereby securing a cheerfulness and comfort equal to that of an open grate or hearth fire.

Cleanliness - Being provided with a Patent Reversible Grate, which is easily shaken or dumped, and a large ash drawer in the base of the stove, no difficulty whatever is experienced from the escape of cinders or ashes into the room while shaking or dumping the grate.

Size of Coal—While in other base burners it has been found absolutely necessary to use only the smallest size of coal, this stove has been so constructed with its improved magazine and grate that the larger sizes of coal, ordinarily burned in parior stoves, may be used with the best results. This is an important advantage, as the larger sized coal is purer and produces a greater heat, and prevents the waste arising from so much fine fuel falling through the grate. This stove is offered to the public with the full belief that it contains better heating and economizing features than any other base burner now in use. Persons desiring a new stove are requested to give it a thorough examination and satisfy themselves that it is the best. I refer to the following persons who have the Stewart Parlor Base Burner in use: Di. Thomas Loockerman, Mrs. Thomas Burns, T. D. Fendall, o.q., Burke & Herbert, City Post Office and others of our city-all of whom unite in recommending it. I keep also on hand a full assortment of WOOD and COAL STOVES The celebrated STEWART COOKING STOVE, with latest improvements, of the different sizes, furnished.

mediately. DR. JOHNSTON, Lastab Member of the Royal College of Surgeon London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfuluess, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured thomselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either busines, study, society or marringe. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habite of youth, viz: Weaknese of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Mus-cular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspep.

Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. MENTALLY —The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of hemory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both nind and body, should apply immediately. What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before con-

MARRIAGE, Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness, Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happi-ness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitu-tional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the nead and limbs, dinances of sight, deafness, nodes of the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commissions till death puts a project to of commiseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller returns." It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the has is of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being res. ored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness, in despair leave him with ruined Health to sig'h over his galling disappointment. DR. JOHNSTON, OFFICE, No. 7, SOUTH FREDERICK STREET BALTIMORE, MD.,
